Even a small city lot can produce much of interest to the observant person. Proof of this rests in a rather interesting collection of bird records that were accumulated on a very small lot in one of the newer residential developments in Sacramento, California.

Before proceeding with the discussion of the bird life, it seems logical to present a description of Sacramento, and the relationship of the lot to physical and vegetation features in this section of central California.

Sacramento, with a 1950 population of 135,761, lies on the floor of the Sacramento Valley approximately 20 miles west of the foothills of the Sierra Nevada. It is at the mouth of the American River on the Sacramento River, and lies between elevations of 15 and 50 feet above mean sea level (including suburban areas, which possess a population larger than the city, itself). A spur of the Sierra Nevada foothills juts southwesterly to provide irregular terrain to the northeast of the city of Sacramento, and north of the American River. Otherwise, the lands surrounding Sacramento are comparatively flat.

The nearest coniferous forests (yellow pine) are located over 35 miles to the east of Sacramento at elevations above 2,000 feet. Below this elevation, chaparral, oak-digger pine woodland and herbaceous vegetation occur on the foothill slopes, distribution depending upon exposure, et cetera, down to an elevation of a few hundred feet. Below this elevation, only herbaceous cover occurs on the foothills and valley floor. Much of the lower foothill lands and valley floor has been developed for a varied agriculture. Although the foothill spur northeast of Sacramento once provided a major woodland and grassland habitat, suburban development has severely disturbed most of the area, and only small areas of oak woodland now exist. Along the American River and portions of the Sacramento River, there is a narrow border strip of riparian brush and a few large trees such as willows, Fremont's cottonwood, and sycamore. Natural marshes are almost non-existent in the vicinity of Sacramento.

The following tabulation shows the relationship of the lot to natural features and other habitats:

Feature	Distance away (in miles)	Direction

Natural - American River	1.71	NE
Sacramento River	3.86
Artificial - State Fair Grounds	0.6
City Park Lakes	3-4.5

Oak Woodland	7.0
City plantings (50 feet or more high)	0.6

Herbs
Grass and weeds - State Fair Grounds	0.3	N

Grasslands	1.1	E
Grasslands	1.2	E
Rice	10.0	E

Trees planted in our neighborhood include both the Modesto and Arizona ashes, silver maple, sycamore, and acacia. Since this neighborhood has been developed during the past three to fifteen years, none of the trees are more than 30 feet high. Further, none of them seem especially attractive to birds for other than perching. A large variety of shrubs occurs around the homes in the neighborhood.

The lot on which the following bird records were accumulated is at an elevation of 33 feet above mean sea level, and is rectangular, with dimensions of 60 by 80 feet. The two-bedroom house divides the lot into two segments, the front yard, and the back yard. Garages and the house occupy the sides of the lot. The front yard contains an Arizona ash, with English laurel, arbor vitae, camellias and privet hedge planted along the front of the house. The backyard is bordered on three sides by tall, fairly dense shrubbery consisting of privet, cotoneaster, oleander, photinia, lilac, viburnum, myrtle, roses, pyracantha, and lauristinus. Flower beds form a border in front of the shrubbery and the house forms the fourth boundary of the backyard. A sycamore tree provides a canopy over approximately one-fourth of the backyard area.

Blue Heron
Mallard - 3
Vultures - none seen until after 930 and then a couple. By noon I found several perched in dead tops of cottonwoods, and a few were circling over the area.
Red-tailed Hawk - just 1 seen
Sparrow Hawks - about 35 seen.
Valley Quail - 5 coveys seen -- 18, 8, 12, 20 and 12.
Pheasants - 6, 3, and 3 seen (3 perched in cottonwood at about 15')
Killdeer - about 6 along creek.
Band-tailed Pigeons - 2 flying over white oaks near dam site. The crop of acorns is huge and each one is large this year.
Mourning Doves - several small flocks in area, mostly in oaks. Saw 52.
W. Kingfishers - 1
Monterey Red-shafted Flickers - very abundant - about 1/lor 2 acres.
California Woodpecker - common in white oaks and Fremont's cottonwoods. Many nest holes seen in cottonwoods. Noisy till about 10 a.m., and much quieter later on. Also observed them hanging on the vertical cliffs of Black Butte, and entering the vertical crevices. This was also observed on the Orland Buttes.
Lewis Woodpeckers - very common, particularly in the blue oak areas. At least 10 seen along every mile traveled by car.
Nuttall Woodpecker - 3 seen working cottonwoods near dam site
Willow Downy Woodpecker - just one seen working a cottonwood
Black Phoebe - a couple near the creeks, utilizing tops of willows for perches.
Interior California Jays very common and noisy. About 45 seen.
Yellow-billed Magpies - about 75 seen in area. Mostly in tops of tall white oaks and cottonwoods along creek beds.
Western Crows
California Plain Titmouse - small flocks in white and blue oaks.
Slender-billed Nuthatches common in white oaks and cottonwoods. Seem to be calling almost continuously.
San Joaquin Bewick Wrens - 2 or 3 seen in underbrush and grape tangles
Rock Wren - a loose group of 5 or so in crevices and on tops of basalt rimrock on SE end of Black Butte above the dam site.
California Thrasher - a couple in the river bottom tangle of willow and grape near the creek. Silent, except for the noise of moving through the brush.
Western Bluebirds - small flocks in area all day, and calling.
Ruby-crowned Kinglets - scattered small groups working brush, and oaks and willow tangles. Heard one singing from oak on woodland

Pipits

Sandhill Cranes - a fairly compact flock of 36 individuals were observed feeding on dry ground in the center of the refuge, just about 150 yards from the car. We drove within 75 yards of them, and then they took flight when John Sypulski tried to get even closer for a graphlex picture of them. They took flight, and gave their rolling call note as they did so. They were slow, but powerful fliers, and circled nearly back once, before heading off toward the west end of the refuge. Two separated and headed southeast, not joining the main flock again.

LEADBETTER PROPERTY, BYBEE LAKE, SMITH LAKE, RAMSEY LAKE AREA,
CITY GARBAGE DUMP, WILLAMETTE RIVER

January 1, 1950. 8:30am to 4:30pm

With Albert Marshall

Trip for Annual Christmas Bird Census of Oregon Audubon Society
Stayed on Leadbetter property until about 11:00am. Went to Bybee Lake and through bottoms there. Hunting season on so got only poor look at Smith Lake from north shore, east shore and from dump. Ate lunch on bank of Willamette next to Hancock oil co., Went to garbage dump about 1:00pm and stayed until about 2:30. Then went to Ramsey Lake and area around lake.

Weather - temp hung around 52. Snowing much of day. Started in morning. ~~XXXX~~ 1 or 2 inches fell and stuck to ground.

Farallon Cormorant - 5 noted along Willamette flying up or down.

Blue Heron - 8 mostly along Columbia on Leadbetter property.

Mallard - Couldn't make a good count because couldn't go on Smith's property to identify the ducks on Smith Lake. Estimated 500

Pintail - Estimated 600

Green-winged Teal - Estimated 600

Shoveller - 25 at east end of lake.

Wood Duck - flushed two from slough in back of Garbage dump.

Lesser Scaup - 3 and probably many more on Smith Lake. Saw a flock of about 20 divers there but couldn't get close enough to identify them.

American Merganser - saw two on Columbia at Leadbetter property. One on Willamette. All females.

Red-tail - one on Leadbetter property.

Sharp-shinned Hawk - saw one at Ramsey Lake.

Cooper's Hawk - Albert saw one near Bybee Lake.

Sparrow Hawk - one between dump and Ramsey Lake.

Ring-necked Pheasant - 2 at Ramsey Lake.

Coot - 120 at northeast corner of Smith Lake.

Killdeer - about 13 for day. At Smith Lake and Bybee Lake.

Wilson's Snipe - 1 at ~~Ramsey Lake~~ ~~XXXXXX~~ ~~just~~ in the marshes south of Ramsey Lake.

Glaucous-winged Gull - Estimated a little over 5,000 gulls in area. 5,000 of these were at dump, where they come into feed in the middle of day from surrounding areas. About 75% of the gulls at the dump were of this species. Estimated there were 4400 glaucous-winged gulls in area.

Herring Gull - Estimated there were 1500 of this species in area. 1300 at dump.

Ring-billed Gull - 20 at dump.

Short-billed Gull - About 60, mostly in sloughs.

Flicker - About 10 seen.

Harry Woodpecker - 2 on Leadbetter property.

Gairdner Woodpecker - 3 seen on " "

Crow - 150, mostly around dump.

Oregon Chickadee - 85 for day.

Bush-tit - Flock of about 20 working in brush under cottonwoods at Leadbetter property.

Slender-billed Nuthatch - 8 for day, mostly on Leadbetter property.

Creeper - one in back of dump.

Seattle Wren - 4.

Robin - 6 around incinerator.

Baldpate 300

AREA NORTH OF PORTLAND, January 1, 1950 continued.

Ruby-crowned Kinglet - one on Leadbetter property.

Golden-crowned Kinglet - about 3 flocks noted. Total estimated at 25.

Pipit - only 3 seen. These at Bybee Lake.

Audubon Warbler - flocks mostly in back of dump. Saw about 35.

These birds were working the sides of trees almost creeper style. Seattle Wrens were doing same. Snow covered up ~~XXXX~~ normal food sources for most part.

English Sparrow - 50 around dump and vicinity noted.

Western Meadowlark - 8 near incinerator.

Red-wing - With brewer's about 25 at least between dump and Smith Lake.

Brewer's Blackbird - 475 around dump and between dump and Smith L.

Purple Finch - Only 5.

House Finch - About 150 seen. 125 were in one flock between dump and Ramsey Lake.

Goldfinch - Large flocks through area. About 460 seen in all.

Spotted Towhee - 2

Ore. Junco - 100, mostly on Leadbetter Property.

Golden-crowned Sparrow - only 2 seen. At Ramsey Lake.

Song Sparrow - Total of about 55 seen.

Blue heron - 1 seen

Mallards - 20 or imm on S. Ek.

Vultures - observed singles, and up to 5 in small groups circling over the nearby countryside, and then about 4:00 I discovered about 100 of them gathered or gathering in the upper half of several very tall Fremont Cottonwoods; they could be seen coming from all directions in almost straight lines to this area of river bottom habitat along the S. Ek. of Stony Creek. The sun had left the valley by this time. They approached singly, not in groups. Watched two squabble and one chase the other for a couple of minutes through the cottonwoods. At 5 p.m. I returned for a final count as it was nearly dusk, and saw no more coming in - the total was about 220, only 60 having come in during the half hour period of dusk. Checked the vultures at the roost at 9 a.m., and found almost all were still perched in cottonwoods, with one or two moving to other trees, and those perching weren't all in the trees they'd been in last night, but the reason for their disturbance was that a rancher was cultivating the field next to the original roosting trees. That the tractor noise disturbed the birds was shown by them moving whenever the tractor came close to the perches, whereas those birds perched in trees farther from the field were not disturbed, and remained on their perch. Some of the disturbed birds were perched in a small group on a grassy knoll about 1/8 mile west of the roost trees at 9:30 a.m. This knoll was in the oak woodland. At noon, another check was made of the roost area, and only a few birds were seen perching in the cottonwoods, and a few others were circling over this and nearby areas. Evidently the bulk of the 220 had left the area for the day, about 11 a.m. We saw vultures east and south of Orland. How far this roost draws the birds from, I would hesitate to state.

Red-tailed Hawk - sev. in area.

Sparrow Hawk - 1/roast mile.

Valley Quail - 2 coverys of 12 and 14 on S. Ek, and 1 covey of 12 at damsite, and 2 coverys of 14 and 24 birds on S. Ek. at Julian rocks.

Pheasant - just 1 seen.

Killdeer - 3 or 4 seen - probably only 12-15 in area.

Wilson Snipe - 4 flushed from edge of creek, on gravel bar in S. Ek.

Mourning Doves - a total of about 65 seen in area, some feeding on the ground, but most perched in blue oak woodland.

Kingfisher - taking insects over waters of S. Ek. at noon, 1-4-50.

Red-shafted Flicker - 10-15/sq. mi.

California Woodpecker - 15-20/sq. mi.

Lewis Woodpecker - about 30/sq. mi. blue oak woodland, and almost as dense in white oak-cottonwood open river bottom on S. Ek.

Sierra Yellow-bellied Sapsucker - S.v. daggetti - in old orchard area along the presently-dry E. Ek.

Nuttall Woodpecker - 1 seen along E. Ek. mainly in oak woodland and near at least some stands of buckbrush.

Black Phoebe - mainly near water, and feeding off low rock perches, etc.

Say Phoebe - open grassland

California Jay - about 5/sq. mi.

Yellow-billed Magpie - about 10/sq. mi. saw several flocks of 15-20 feeding on the ground. At dusk flushed about 250-300 from Fremont Cottonwood tops at S. Ek. Bridge. They returned to same tree perches when flushed. Must be night roost, but they were gone when seen at 8:45 a.m.

California Plain Titmouse - several individuals - no flocks

White-breasted Nuthatch - sev. seen working the blue and white oaks and feeding in litter on the ground under these trees.

1-4-50 cont'd.

January 9, 1950 2:30pm to 4:30pm

Weather: Temp. about 34. Two inches of snow had just melted.
Strong wind and rain. It was miserable.

Water conditions. Although the stick road only 15 inches, two sections of the road were flooded and most of the property. The water was about 6 inches higher on the south side than on the north side. Could barely make it to the island on the south side. Meadow at north end held water about 18 inches deep.

Area Covered: All of swamp. Walked up into meadow considerable distance and also to south end.

Canada Goose - 1,500 or more in area. Saw this number in field northeast of main pond. Later saw about 1,000 ~~Mallards~~ which were additional ones or the same.

Mallard - Total of about 100 on area. These mostly in meadow with a few at the south end.

Gadwall - Watched a flock of 22 at south end along southwest edge of the island.

Pintail - About 25. All in the meadow.

Green-winged Teal - 50, all in the meadow.

Ring-necked Duck - Has this one ever been recorded at the swamp before? Saw one male in the main pond along with one male Scaup. See above. These two ducks were the only ducks seen in the main pond.

Ruddy Duck - One male and one female were seen on the south side of the dike road. Male showed some red coloring already.

Coot - About 120 total. These were mostly on the south side.

Killdeer - 3 near the barn.

Marsh Wren

Pipit - About 15 at south end.

Red-wing - About 75 came in at 3:30.

MCFADDEN'S SWAMP, 3 miles North of Monroe, BENTON CO., OREGON

January 14, 1950 3:00pm to 4:30pm

Weather: Temp. 25 to 30 degrees. High clouds. Still. Ground covered with 8 inches of powder snow. Edges of water areas with ~~AKKKK~~ up to 1/2 inches of ice. Water was over road between shack and first bridge as well as towards Muddy Cr. The stick was covered with ice, but probably road about 20 inches.

Area Covered - North side as far as main pond. Didn't look into the meadow, but it was probably frozen over. Covered all of south side.

Canada Goose - Heard some in the distance, but didn't see any.

Mallard - About 200, mostly on the south side.

Baldpate - About 50, several of which were on the ~~AKKKKside~~ north side. The rest on the south side.

Pintail - 25

Green-winged Teal - 25

Ring-necked Duck - one male in deep part of main pond with

Scalp - 4 males and one female in deep part of main pond diving with coots.

Ring-necked Pheasant - Didn't see any around the swamp, but lots going out and coming in. They were active and showed up plainly against the white background of snow. Saw one cock fly across the road which has some snow or ice sticking the the end of its tail.

Coot - About 120. Almost all of these birds were on the south side.

Killdeer - One flying around the south end.

Horned Owl - Heard two hooting from the ash along Muddy Cr. south of the road. One hooted at a lower pitch than the other.

Short-eared Owl - Flushed one from along edge of swamp just north of the road.

Bushtit - Flack in Spirea and ash thicket swamp.

Seattle - Wren - 2

Ruby-crowned Kinglet - Heard one scolding from ash thicket.

Pipit - Must have been at least 40 here and there. They would feed from edge of ice next to water.

Red-wing - A few came in just before we left, about 30.

Goldfinch - one flew over.

Ore. Junco - Must have been about 30. Not flocked up much. Would often see singles.

Savannah Sparrow - saw one along dike road.

Song Sparrow - Out everywhere searching for food. Saw about 25.

Passerine birds as a whole were extremely active.

January 15, 1950 12:30pm

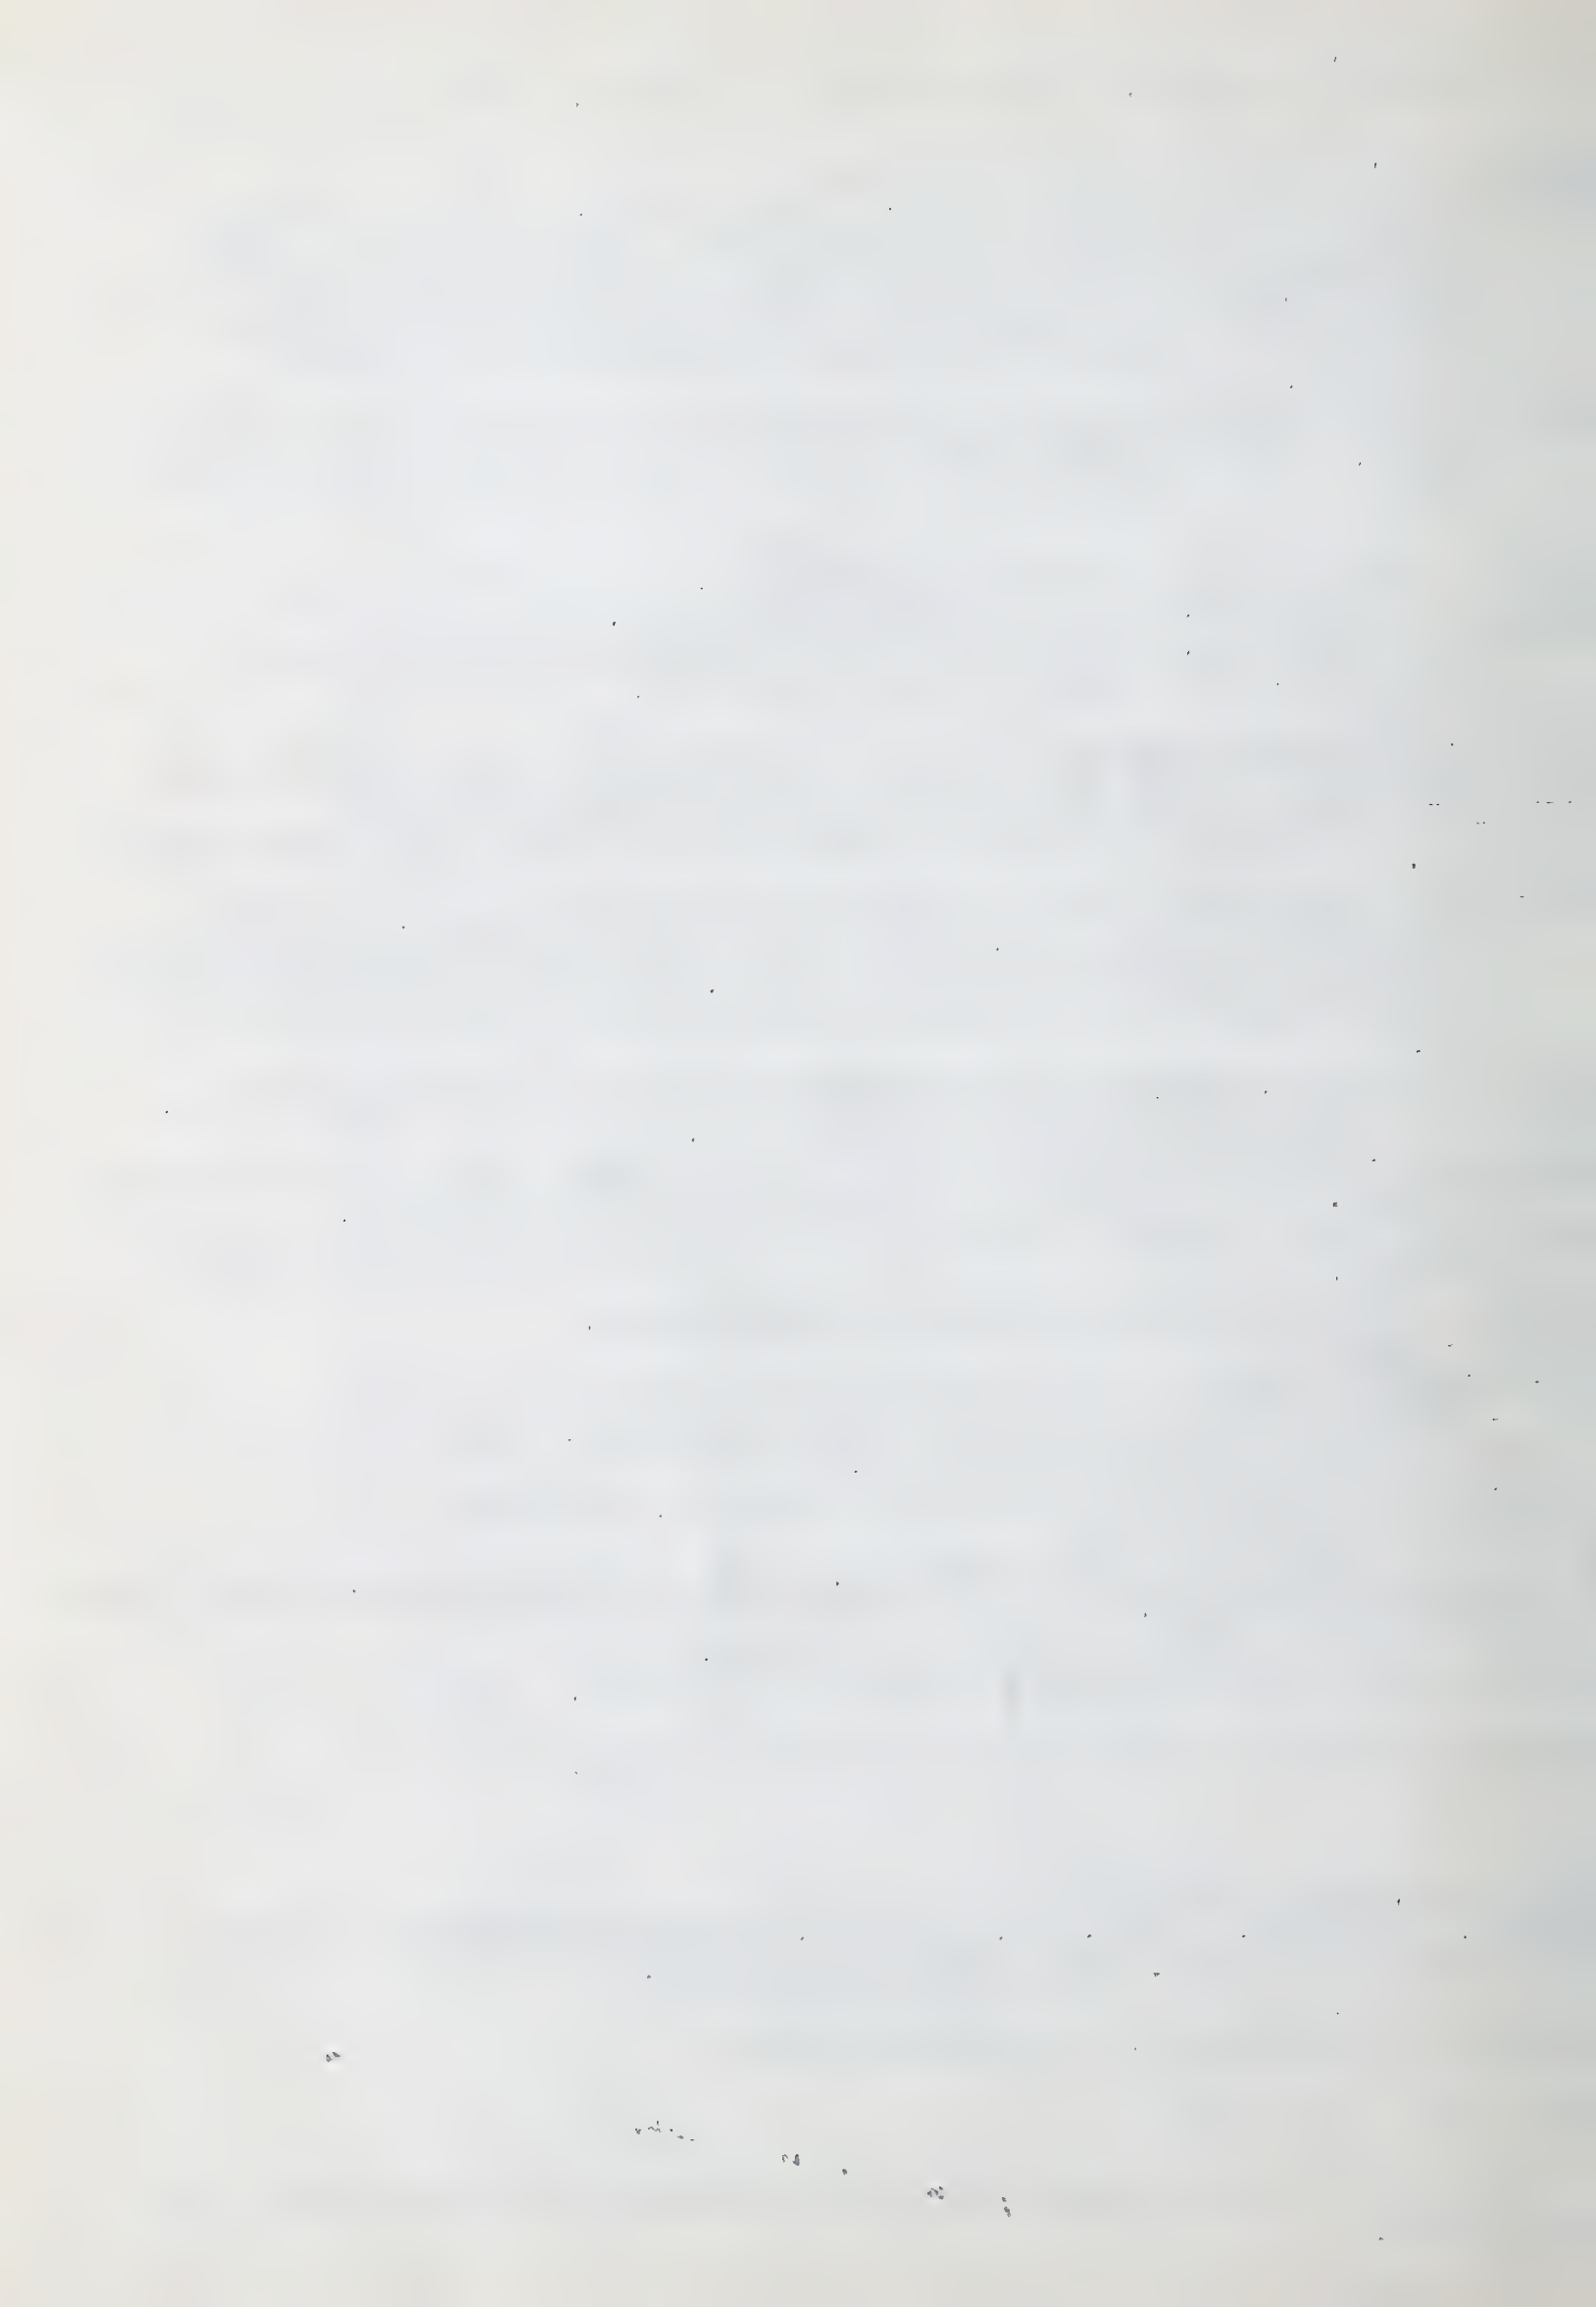

Weather: Snowing. Temp. 33. One ft. of snow on ground. Water down about six inches from afternoon before.

Stopped on bridge only. Saw nothing but

Ruddy Duck - one pair.

Checked Long Tom River where concentration was last year. No ducks there.

At 2300 Western Corvallis, Same Day. Savannah sparrow feeding with Juncos, Golden-crown & white-crown sparrows on bread crumbs.

INDEPENDENCE AREA, MARION CO., OREGON

January 19, 1950 11:30am to 3:30pm

With Francis Ives, game commission district agent

Trip to backwater slough of Willamette River about 2 miles south of Independence and the Willamette River at that point.

Then visited Willamette River about 8 miles up river from Independence.

Weather - Snow thawing and ice breaking up. Cloudy. ~~XXXX~~ Snow just at start of thaw so about 1 ft. on ground.

Canada Goose - Flock of 30 at first mentioned point.

Ducks in general - About 1800 concentrated at point about 2 miles south of Independence. These ducks were feeding in a corn field which was between the river and the slough. When not feeding the ducks would gather in the slough and on the river. Some corn ears were ~~XXXX~~ overlooked in harvesting and it was these that the ducks were utilizing. Local residents reported ducks in corn fields in other locations around Independence. A second concentration of ducks was noted upstream from Independence about 8 miles where the road follows the river for a short distance. This concentration consisted of about 750 ducks. How many ducks were between these two points on the river is not known.

Mallard - This species made up the greater part of the concentrations. 1,000 were estimated to be present at the first point and 600 at the latter point.

Baldpate - 300 at the first point and 50 at the later point.

Fintail - 500 at the first point and 100 at the 2nd point.

Green-winged Teal - seven at the first point.

Ring-necked Duck - 5 on the river at the first point.

Canvasback - 1 on the river at the first point.

American Merganser - 1 male on the river at the first point and 2 sex ? at the 2nd point. ~~XXX~~

Bobwhite - Saw two ~~XXXX~~ coveys around Independence.

Valley Quail - Saw several doves during the day. All seemed a little slow in flushing, but appeared to be still in good shape despite the weather.

Ring-necked Pheasant - Saw one cock without a tail. Many of the birds had only a few feathers on their tails, and in almost all cases pheasant tails appeared frayed.

Wilson's Snipe - one at the first point.

Mourning Dove - Some flying about the Corvallis Game Farm.

Red-shafted Flicker

Calif. Jay - Independence, one.

Crows

Brewer's Blackbirds

Meadowlark - one dead in corn field below Independence. Saw others. Another dead one was in same field, but only feathers left.

MCFADDEN'S SWAMP, AT BRUCE, BENTON COUNTY, OREGON

January 21, 1950. 3:30 to 5:00pm

With Charles Traub

Weather - Cloudy. Temp. about 40. Light rain periodically.

Snow covered about 1/2 of ground. Ice around edges of swamp breaking up and melting fast.

Water Conditions - Water so high that we did not try to drive all the way to the Muddy Creek bridge. Yark stick read about 24 inches. Water too deep to wade to island on south side. Meadow at north end flooded at about 2 feet.

Area Covered - First went across Muddy Creek and found most of ducks and geese along boundary of McFadden's property and Reader Place. Thus most of the waterfowl were not on the swamp proper at all, but on the other side of the creek in flooded fields. ~~XXXXXX~~ Then went to swamp north of road. Went up to meadow, but no ducks there. Covered south side only from what could be seen from road. Divers were the only ducks north of the road in the main pond of swamp.

Canada Goose - Only about 50 in fields east of the Swamp, but 750 in fields on west side of Muddy Creek.

Mallard - About 100 in area, mostly on the west side of the creek.

Baldpate - At least one flock in area. Traub counted 61 in this flock, when they landed very close to us on the ground on the west side of the creek. Of the 61, he says 37 were males.

Pintail - About 50 in area.

Green-winged Teal - 40 in area.

Ring-necked Duck - one and maybe more on main pond of swamp.

Canvasback - 2 males on main pond of swamp.

Seaup - About six on main pond.

Ruddy Duck - 7 total, all south of road. Two were ~~XXXXXX~~ in male plumage.

Bobwhite - Covey with 7 near ~~XXXXXXXX~~ 1st farmhouse on right south of store. Thus not really at swamp.

Coot - Saw about 100 in main part of swamp. Not complete for coot because we didn't go to south end.

Killdeer - Heard one calling.

Mourning Dove - saw one.

Red-shafted Flicker

Tule Wren

Pipit - one

FAILING ESTATE

We didn't get very far here before road was covered with water.

Canada Goose - 500 plus. We watched small groups come from west side of Muddy Cr. from over trees. Couldn't get to field they were coming from because of water. Didn't see all of them.

MCFADDEEN'S SWAMP

Didn't get far here either. Water across dike road too deep for car.

Canada Goose - 500 in field on east side between ~~KIAMMA~~ railroad and swamp. Not same birds as above, as above birds flew north.
Coot - about 25.

We didn't try to cover any of swamp because of such high water.

FIELD SEVERAL MILES NORTH OF SWAMP

Canada Goose - About 100 in rye grass ? field with Snow Goose - 20 of them. Included 6 or 6 young. Were first about 10 present. Then about 10 more came in. ~~ANN~~ Should have said about 20. They kept getting behind each other. We counted a number of times, and got from 18 to 23.

FAILING ESTATE

ABOUT 10 MILES SOUTH OF CORVALLIS, BENTON COUNTY, OREGON

January 28, 1950 2:00pm to 4:30pm

Weather - Ground covered with about 10 inches of snow. Temp. 30 degrees. Overcast. Muddy Creek in flood. Road into estate covered by water up to 2 feet deep.

Area Covered: Because of the high water had to start walking before we got as far in as Muddy Creek. We crossed the creek on the bridges afoot and then walked down through the sedge marsh and back

With Charlie Traub

Canada Goose - At least 1500 on the estate. They were at the lower part of the sedge marsh flocked in the water and on a pasture along the east side of the marsh. Certain areas around the marsh contained their tracks in abundance. At these places was a considerable amount of plant matter floating on the water that had been rooted up and grazed upon. Most of this was new green shoots of Polygonum, leaves of a small composite similar to a dandelion, and grass leaves.

Cackling Goose - A few, probably around 25 were seen. Many more were probably overlooked.

Ducks, Unidentified - 300 at least a flooded portion at the upper end of the marsh. They flew up at too great a distance for us to be able to identify them, but we know mallards, Baldpates, green-winged teal were among them from the call notes.

Mallard - 100. Many more males than females. The females that were present were almost always paired with a male.

Pintail - 25

Baldpate - 12

Wood Duck - Heard one but did not see on Muddy Creek.

Red-tail Hawk - 1

Sparrow Hawk - 1

Ring-necked Pheasant - Saw around 15 in one small field. Others were around the marsh. They were feeding in small waterways and drainage ditches that were free of snow. At one location where their tracks were present in the snow the rose hips had been fed upon.

Killdeer - heard one several times.

Red-shafted Flicker - saw 2

Gairdner Woodpecker - heard one or two along Muddy Cr. in the ash.

Crows

Short-eared Owl - Watched one individual which following down road with us by flying from fence post to fence post.

Ore. Chickadees

Seattle Wren - singing

Robin - small flock, maybe 15.

Varied Thrush - Seemed thick in ash along Muddy Creek. Saw perhaps 15, but heard others.

Western Bluebird - Flick of about 15 on ground in wet marsh area.

Golden-crowned Kinglet - heard one along Muddy Cr.

Pipit - small flock where snow was melted along marsh.

Brewer's Blackbird - flock of about 8 along marsh.

Western Meadowlark - one where snow was melted along marsh.

Weather conditions described below. All these birds were along about one mile of highway. 1456

Sparrow Hawk

Red-shafted Flickers

Robin

Varied Thrush - Lots along road. Picked up 6 dead ones which had been hit by cars. All gizzards of these birds contained poison oak berries. Made skin out of one.

Audubon Warbler - Picked up 2 dead ones. Will try to make skins out of them if not spoiled. Haven't checked gizzards yet.

Other Audubon Warblers along fence rows. First Audubon warblers I have seen for some time. Dead ones too far gone for skins. Gizzards of both full of poison oak berries.

English Sparrow - Feeding in farmyard along with all the remainder of this list. The birds were being artificially fed. All under one tree.

Western Meadowlark

House Finch

White-crowned Sparrow

Golden-crowned Sparrow - Also picked up one dead one. Unlike the varied thrushes, this bird was fat. Gizzards contained weed seeds and grass.

Ore. Juncos - One picked up dead on highway. Gizzard had seeds and what looked like cracked corn.

All birds with poison oak berries were from same section of highway, one that contained fence rows with poison oak.

BASKETT SLOUGH, one mile north of RICKREALL on highway 99W

POLK CO., OREGON

February 9, 1950 11:00 to 1:30.

Weather: High clouds.

Area Covered: Flooded fields on west side of highway and 1,000 acre farm covering both hillside and lowland belonging to Mr. William Cadle.

Description of area: The flooded fields on the west side of the area belong to a man named Palmer, who raises English rye grass, alsike clover and hairy vetch for seed. The rye grass was about 3 inches high. The legumes were ~~MIXED WITH~~ put with it as a companion crop of sparse quantity. The ducks were in flooded fields with this crop. Adjoining ground, uncultivated and along the creek, is subject to flooding.

The farm belonging to Mr. William Cadle is on the east side of the highway. Mr. Cadle's fields are large, each being around 300 acres. Part of this land lies on a ridge. Mr. Cadle alternates Austrian winter peas with barley. The ridge is about 200 feet higher than the lower areas. Mr. Cadle also has a duck pond, which we did not investigate. He feeds the birds artificially here. Many more geese feed on Mr. Cadle's land than was present this particular day. He reports, ~~like~~ that the geese left his land during the snows the first of January and that they are just beginning to come back. Mr. Cadle says a small flock of geese appeared on his farm 18 years ago. ~~More~~ More geese came back each year until in recent years several thousand have been wintering on his land. Mr. Cadle, who is a graduate of OSC in forestry in 1935, appears to be a good observer. He says the geese like peas and volunteer barley, but don't take vetch. He says 39 geese were taken on his land this last season. Hunting is carried out two days per week. This is raised to three towards the last of the season.

Canada Goose - 1050 on the area. All but 300 of these were on the Cadle property. It seemed odd to watch geese graze on a hillside, where they looked like they could be sheep at a distance. Mr. Cadle feels the geese do him little or no damage except around his duck pond, where he plants corn for the ducks. He keeps the geese out of his corn patch by scare crows which are moved each day. The scare crows work fine he says as long as they are moved. A flattened out tin can ~~like~~ ~~XXXXXX~~ ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ dangling from the arm of each helps he says.

Snow Goose - Flock of about 50 on the Palmer place. Only 8 of these were juveniles for certain.

HORSESHOE LAKE, several miles west of ST. PAUL, MARION CO.,
OREGON

February 9, 1950 4:15pm

Weather: High clouds. Most of lake frozen over.

Many more ducks were in this area than we saw I feel. They were scattered and consequently we saw only a few. The area around Horsehoe Lake contains fields of corn, which appears to be the principle food of the ducks in this area.

Mallard - 300 in flooded bottom ~~XX~~ land on east side of lake.

Baldpate - 300 at same location.

Green-winged Teal - heard some in distance as well as more mallards, and baldpate.

Mourning Dove - Most have seen 100. They were all along the highway between Salem and St. Paul. One flock of about 25 was perched along the crest of a barn roof like rock doves.

COLUMBIA RIVER BOTTOMS, IN AREA AROUND PORTLAND COLUMBIA

February 11, 1950

With McAllisters

Weather: Most of ground still covered by snow here. Cloudy.

We drove around in car over part of this area. Made no attempt to count the ducks, as they were flying about and we did not completely cover the area. The ducks were in small flocks in fields and flooded portions of fields.

This area is one of truck farming and dairying. Rye, oats, common vetch, corn and cabbage are principle crops. A local ~~XXXX~~ dairyman and sportsman says the ducks feed heavily in cabbage, corn early in the fall. He complains of damage ~~XX~~ by grazing to green shoots of rye. My own observations in the area showed heavy grazing by waterfowl to grass crops.

Mallard - saw several hundred

Pintail - saw several hundred

FAILING ESTATE

February 18, 1950 5:00pm

Canada Goose - Flock in field. Didn't get to count them.

Went in to talk to Earl Campbell, one of the brothers who operate the Failing Estate. Campbell accurately described the snow goose to me. He said he saw a flock of about 50 on Feb. 17. These were the first he had ever seen so he says. He says there are not near the number of geese on his place this year as have been present previous years. Campbell says he raises vetch, alta fescue, oats and rye grass mostly on his place. He says the geese take all these crops, but believes they prefer the vetch. He does not believe they do him any damage.

marshes 2 1/2 miles SOUTHEAST OF COLONIAL
LAKE, LINN CO., OREGON

February 19, 1950 and February 20, 1950

Area Covered - This area is mostly in section 4 of T.12S, R.4W.

Covered east end of this marsh area. Did not cover the main west branch of it. At the end of this marsh area on the east side is a large lake which almost completely dries up during the summer. This lake is probably a little over 1/2 mile wide long and 1/3 mile wide. The marsh running into this lake is about 100 ft. wide and 3/4 mile long. The large lake or marsh at the end is something I wish I had known about long ago, as it certainly is a duck area. The narrow strip of marsh running into it held fewer ducks, but is also interesting.

Description: In addition to above description, the feeder marsh or strip running into the main marsh is dominated by reed canary grass. Some Eleocharis is also present. Strips of it are solid canary grass while other parts are open. Along the edge of this strip is cultivated ground planted to what I believe to be rye grass (will find out for sure). Over 2,000 (strip) feet of this rye grass on both sides of the marsh was heavily grazed by ducks and geese back about 25 ft. from the water.

The main marsh is dominated by Carex lanuginosa or a like species. Eleocharis is second almost approaches this Carex in abundance. Some Polygonum is also present and a little Ranunculus aquatilis. A few islands of Carex obnupta are present. At the south end is about 2 acres of Scirpus acutus or validus. The edges of this marsh are heavily grazed and consist of grasses and weeds of various species. Water depth up to 2 ft. today.

Covered the marsh running into the main marsh or lake on February 19 from 11:00am to 1:00pm. Only ducks present along this strip were Drove clear around and saw only one duck and that I couldn't tell what it was.

DOERFLER'S POND, LINN CO., OREGON

MAIN MARSH 2 1/2 miles southeast of COLORADO LAKE

Will hereafter call this marsh area described on February 19 and 20 as Doerfler's pond. Covered only main pond.

With class in Game Birds, which I went with to show them the way to this place. Thus with Jay Long and others.

February 27, 1950 2:30pm to 4:15pm

Weather: Temp 50 but a beautiful day. Clear as could be. Pond a beautiful day.

Water Conditions: ~~XXXX~~ Much of valley in flood, but level in this pond stays rather constant this time of year. River and sloughs very high. Had to go through water just beyond the bridge at Corallis. Perhaps this high water is partly responsible for all the divers which would have been washed out of their normal habitat.

What a day. Can't understand all the divers. Although we saw ~~XXXX~~ lots of ducks, Mr. Doerfler says ~~XXXX~~ today there was the lowest number of ducks for some time. He was undoubtedly speaking of pins, mallards and baldpates.

Canada Goose - 250

Mallard - 200 in the far pond.

Baldpate - 100. These came in just before we left. It appeared as though more ducks were coming in as we left.

Pintail - 76 in the far pond.

Green-winged Teal - 25 in the far pond.

Shoveller - At least 2, a male and female.

Redhead - First redheads I have ever seen the valley. Jay says he had never seen them in the valley before either. Jay spotted this first one. Later we spotted others and looked at them through Jay's 19.5 power spotting scope. They were in with ring-necks and cans. Still later three of us, in walking around the pond had a flock of redheads and cans alight right in front of us at about 100 ft. in the bright sunlight. Saw up to 24 redheads at one time. Perhaps this was the total for the pond.

Ring-necked Duck - About 100 of them!! None of them appeared to be scaups although Charlie Traub thought he saw 2 scaups. They also performed beautifully by taking off and landing again often on and whistling in for landings over our heads.

Canvasback - About 30 of them.

Ruddy Duck - 2

Red-tail Hawk - 2

Coot - 25

April 25, 1950, Humboldt Bay & Vicinity - 0630-1530 PST, off and on.

Calm early in a.m., but N-NW at 25-40 during afternoon. Large swells coming in thru bar, and bay surface all chopped up.

Pacific Loon - several seen

Common Loon - 15-20 in entrance in a compact unit, facing west into swells.

Others seen all over the inner bays.

Red-throated Loon - a very few seen

Hornea Grebe - 1M

Western Grebe - many seen

Pie-d-billed Grebe - few.

Farallon Cormorants - common

Brant's Cormorants - few seen.

Blue Heron

Black Brant - few in north bay, but I made three counts on calm water in the South Bay early in the a.m., and the total averaged out to 35,000 birds.

About 130 p.m. I was at the end of the north spit, while strong 30-40 mph winds were blowing from north and I observed several flocks of 150-200 or 300 brant heading north over the ocean to the west of the south spit, and then veering in sharply with the wind, as they reached the bar entrance channel. Perhaps these were north-bound migrants moving into Humboldt Bay from the south, and seeking haven from the winds.

Light-bellied Brant - Branta bernicla hrota - among the many brant observed at close range today, I saw about 7 that most assuredly were this species.

Lesser Scaup - few

White-winged Scoter - few

Surf Scoter - fairly common

Ruddy Duck

Red-breasted Merganser M & F's

Vulture

Osprey - watched one dive below the bay water surface and take an 8-inch bay smelt, and then watched it escape from harassing gulls as it circling high over the bay and headed eastward toward the hills.

Trip afoot up east side of island chain running north from Navy Cabin. Around south ends of heron rockery and Swan Lake. ~~Thence to second island~~ second large island southwest of Swan and west of Tule Lake. Covered pond along west edge of this island. Then went around north edge of Tule Lake and back to car. Birds most heavily concentrated on Tule Lake. Looked for nests all the way by walking shoreline, ~~both~~ salt grass and desert edge. Found only one nest with all this looking. None of this covered on weekly census.

~~WEST~~
Western Grebe - 6
Double-crested Cormorant - 5

Table 1: Summary of Data

The following table provides a summary of the data collected during the study. The data is organized into two main categories: Category A and Category B. Each category is further divided into sub-categories, with specific data points recorded for each. The table is presented in a clear and concise format, allowing for easy comparison and analysis of the results.

Table 2: Detailed Data Analysis

This table provides a detailed analysis of the data, showing the results of various statistical tests and calculations. The data is presented in a structured format, with columns for each variable and rows for each data point. The analysis includes a comparison of the results for Category A and Category B, as well as a breakdown of the data into sub-categories. The results are presented in a clear and concise manner, allowing for easy interpretation and understanding of the findings.

Golden Pileolated Warbler - many present. watched male carrying dry grass to nest site in crevice in concrete granite stone wall about 8 feet high. Nest located 15" from bottom of wall, where seepage from Echo Lake was leaking out. The wall faced southeast. A thicket of alder, not-yet leafed out, grows near the wall, and it was through this bare thicket that the male brought nest material each time. In 5 minutes he made 4 trips to the nest. The nest was made of grass materials, almost exclusively. Outside shape irregular, but roughly 3" x 4" outside. The inside cup was about 2" in diameter and 2 1/2" deep. It was of the same material as the rest of the nest. Perhaps the depth could be accounted for by the addition of finer material for the cup lining, as nest building neared completion. Alders will shed the nest early in the a.m., when they are leafed out. No female seen.

June 18, 1950, Lake Tahoe, west side - 1030-1515 PDST, Eldorado & Placer Cos.

California Gulls - about 9 seen altogether.

Northern White-headed Woodpecker - saw 3 today. One was a female hovering over the hiway, catching insects and "millers" in mid-air, and so we stopped to watch her. We soon observed that she was carrying food to readily-heard young. The nest hole was a new excavation and about 1 1/2" in diameter, a little higher from top to bottom. The hole was on the south side of a 16-foot red-fir stump, at a height of about 11 feet. The stump was fully-bark, with no bare wood showing. The stump was only about 15 feet from the west, lakeside hiway (C.S.H. 89) and was used to support a neon sign advertising Pomin's Tahoe Park Cottages. The male bird was not seen during a period of 15 minutes we were there, but the female visited the nest at least 12 times during the 15 minutes, even though my presence held her away for at least 3 minutes of that time.

Pied-billed Grebe

Parallon Cormorants - in the evening at 7 p.m. we arrived at Bird Rock along the 17-mile Drive in time to count about 4,000 of them on one side of one of the 3 rocks in the group, and all the while more groups of 2 or 3 to 15 or 20 were arriving from both the north and the south, although most of them were coming from the north. We estimated that 10,000 or more used the rocks that evening. The following morning we saw flights heading north along the east edge of Monterey Bay, with directive purpose. Last evening they were flying west along the south side of the bay out to the ocean, and today flying east and north along the south and east side of the bay to the day's feeding grounds. The bird rocks must draw cormorants from a great distance - at least 15 miles, following the bay coastline.

ANAHU ISLAND, PYRAMID LAKE, NEVADA, INSPECTION TRIP

June 26, 1950 1:30pm to 4:30pm

Observers: Marshall and Giles & Tom Trelease, state fisheries biologist

Schedule: Visited colonies as found by Giles and Nygren on May 15, 1950.

Western Grebe - Some in water around the water.

White Pelican - At all stages of reproduction. Six pods found, and a 7th having been so far along that no birds were present. On pod was seen on top of the island after we left the island and were out in the boat. Giles estimated 2500 young were present. This does not include the pod at the top of the island. Fish coughed up by the young birds were carp, Lahontan chubs and cui-ei. Possibly 75% were carp. Trelease counted 232 carp averages two inches long from one young pelican. One brown bullhead was found also.

Double-crested Cormorant - Several pods at all stages. 1,000 young estimated present. Cormorants were nesting near edge of water on hunks of tuffa. Their nests were high and contains much alkali weed. ~~XXXX~~ Most eggs were hatched.

Blue Heron - Didn't visit the nests this time but noticed around 10 blue herons near the lowest pelican pod.

Canada Goose - About 165 counted in small ~~XXXX~~ groups around edge of the island. Many appeared to be young of the year and could not fly.

Mallard - About 5 adults off edge of island.

American Merganser - 3 males ~~XXXX~~ and 2 females seen off island.

Turkey Vulture - Several circling around cliffs.

California Gull - Estimated 1500 adults at colony. Young birds walking around. Few eggs, as mostly hatched. Made no attempt to count the young. Nests were depressions in ground lined with algae or other vegetable material.

Capian Tern - Small colony containing 25 nests in gull ~~XXXX~~ colony. Counted 40 adults. Most nests had eggs and a few had young just out of the egg. Nests were depressions in the ground. ~~XXXXXXXX~~ Had no vegetable material in them.

INSPECTION TRIP OF ANNE ISLAND WILDLIFE RESERVE, STRAITS L., MALAYA

July 3, 1950 10:00 am to 3:30 pm

Observers: LeRoy Giles, Fred Wright, David S. Marshall and Thomas E. McAllister of Oregon State Game Commission.

Schedule: Visited all colonies to band young and make more complete estimates on the number of birds present. Estimates here given therefore supersede those made on May 15 and June 26, 1950.

Data given below also includes summary of observations made on May 15 and June 26.

Dates ~~given~~ for observations below are for July 3 unless otherwise specified.

Birds

Hared Grebe - 2 seen in water off island.

Western Grebe - Saw only one, but several seen on June 26 and May 15.

White Pelican - Giles estimated 5,000 adults on May 15, which is the best observation to date on adults. Adults can be estimated to best advantage earlier in the season when more are present. Of the 5,000, 1,000 were at the mouth of the Truckee River. Since pelicans range over ~~such~~ a vast area from this colony, many adults belonging to the colony went uncounted because of tours over the region. As an example on May 16, the day after Giles made his count 400 pelicans were counted on the Stillwater Wildlife Management Area.

4,160 young pelicans in 14 pods or colonies were counted on July 3. Also 16 eggs, some of which may not have been fertile. Counting was more progressed at lower levels on the island. As one went up the island to the top nesting ~~became~~ was at successively ~~later~~ earlier stages. Two pods were at the top of the island having 50 nests containing a total of 60 young and 3 eggs. Pipping of eggs and newly hatched young were observed at this location. These ~~two~~ colonies were overlooked on previous visits. About 3 young, all that were in the lowest colony had apparently left the island. This colony was observed on May 15. Pods or colonies found on July 3 are as follows:

1. 60 young
2. 200 young
3. 30 young
4. 60 young
5. 850 young
6. 750 young
7. 200 young and 3 eggs
8. 300 young and 4 eggs
9. 10 young
10. 50 young and ~~one~~ 6 eggs
11. 30 young and 1 egg
12. 350 young
13. 200 young
14. 800 young
- 4150 young and 16 eggs.

On June 26 roughly 75% of the fish regurgitated by the young pelicans were carp

, the remainder being chubs (Lepidosteus obesus) and cui-ui (Charistes cuius). On July 3 no dead carp or cui-ui were observed to be regurgitated, ~~and~~ the only fish being chubs. Apparently feeding habits vary considerably during the season and may vary from through the day.

It is felt our presence caused the death of ~~many~~ smaller young through excessive exposure to the sun, as the adults were quick to take flight and abandon their young as we approached a colony.

Several naked young had been injured in the back, as blood was running from this location. Possibly this injury was caused by California gulls. Pierced eggs found on May 15 also indicated gull predation.

It was difficult to get an accurate estimate on the number of pods, as pods would break up into several ~~small~~ when approached. Therefore our ~~numbers~~ of pods some pods counted as two many only be one. Some colonies were so close together that they could be considered one. 50 young pelicans were banded.

Double-crested Cormorant - 1200 adults were counted at nesting colonies and elsewhere on the island. Five nesting colonies were found containing 1050 young and 17 eggs. Nesting was at all stages. Some young left the colonies and took to the water. Colonies were situated on tuffa along the water's edge at various distances apart. Nest material was alkali wood. The number of eggs or young to each colony were as follows: As estimated:

Colony

1. 400 young and 9 eggs
2. 225 young and 6 eggs
3. 250 young
4. 600 young
5. 175 young
- 1050 young and 17 eggs.

25 young cormorants were banded.

Blue Heron - On May 15 Gillis and Hyren found 10 blue heron nests containing young. This trip 27 adults and/or young were observed away from the colony. ~~Also~~ A nest with 4 young and another with 3 eggs was also found.

Canada Goose - Fred counted a total of 307. All in the water around the island. The young were too far along to tell from adults.

Mallard - Brood with 6 Class III young was seen. Also 12 mallards in two flocks of 6 each were seen.

Cadwall - 4 were seen with a flock of 6 pintail flying over the water along the edge of the island.

Pintail - one lone female on island's edge seen. A pair in the water and the flock of 6 mentioned above.

American Merganser - We chased about 25 of them with the boat. They did not fly but flopped along in the water ahead of us.

Turkey Vulture - Probably about 8 flying about over the top of the island.

Marsh Hawk - Observed a pair.

Prairie Falcon - pair on cliffs and flying about over top of island. Might have been nesting in hole seen present in rocks.

Marbled Godwit - flushed 6 from edge of island.

California Gull - 2,000 adults were estimated present at the colony and in the air above it. The gull colony was at the south end of the island. An inspection of photographs of the colony ~~reveals~~ brings ~~forth~~ forth an estimate of 300 young alive and 200 dead young. Reproduction thus appears very low with a high mortality. Young were out running around. It is felt considerable mortality took place through our presence, since we prevented adults from shading young from the sun. On our visit to the gull colony on June 26 we did not ~~notice~~ notice such high mortality among the young birds and wondered if many did not die after we left. 50 young were banded.

Caspian Tern - This bird has not been noted nesting on the island by previous observers. Apparently it is a new comer. There is nothing to add to the observations made on June 26, when the 25 tern nests were counted in the gull colony, except more of the young had hatched.

Mourning Dove - The observation by Miles and Wyron on this bird on May 15 constitutes the only record. A pair were seen by them.

Rock Wren - Rock wrens could be heard singing from the higher part of the island.

Heard a strange call from a willow thicket along Fresno Slough, and stopped to look back, for we had just passed it, and then I spotted a bird flying past us toward that thicket, and I did not recognize it at all. Finally had several other views of it - gray body, chestnut wings, whitish under body. Black on head. Undertail black and white spotted. The birds gave low, guttural scold notes. Before leaving the area we had seen 3 pairs, some fairly close to us as we ate lunch. in willow-cattail slough corner strip.

Dan took several pictures of it as it was intent on feeding in salt grass, and seemed to have no fear of us, except to keep just out of reach when annoyed. It pecked at burlap on old board like my pet black-billed magpie used to peck and probe at things. Never flew over 20' from us and I also approached within two feet of it while it fed on the ground. Appeared and acted weak, tho it flew easily when it wanted to.

Course followed ship channel on way back. 0650-1010 and 1420-1910 PST.

seen 10-3-54 by Goli Jota and Soc. Island Logwell

✓ Sooty Shearwater - only 2 seen in trip out, but about 18 or 20 individuals were ✓ seen seen on return trip. Not associated with other species.

✓ Black-vented Shearwater - 3 seen soon after leaving Farallons on return trip.

✓ Pink-footed Shearwaters - 4 seen about halfway out to islands.

✓ Brown Pelicans - first seen just north of lightship, which is at $122^{\circ}41'25''$ W and $34^{\circ}45'2''$ N. Four of them were flying westerly. A few others seen a few miles NE of Farallons. On return trip a few came to the boat as gulls did, grabbing fish cleanings tossed overboard by fishermen. A few landed on water with gulls and moved along with us. Darkness came before we reached the Golden Gate. However, silhouetted against the city lights I saw brown pelicans heading toward S.Fran. Bay from the ocean. A total of 35 or 40 were seen between 1830 and 1900 PST. Also saw 5 in one group heading out to sea at this time.

✓ Farallon Cormorants - huge numbers feeding over Potatopatch Shoals (Four Fathom Bank) located between $122^{\circ}33'-37''$ W and $37^{\circ}48'-50''$ N, to the west of Bonita Point and Bonita Channel. They would flush ahead of our boat. A few seen all the way out and back.

✓ Northern Phalaropes - 2 or 3 small groups of 3-5 seen on way out and a few seen on way back. All in winter plumage.

✓ Parasitic Jaeger - No full adults seen, but about 8 birds lacking tail elongations were observed. Best told by comparison of head markings when they approached close enough.

Long-tailed Jaeger - Saw only one full adult with 8-10" tail elongations going out and one coming back. "Tailless" birds could not be identified during the a.m., but on return trip there were several that approached within 40 feet of our boat and of 7 seen in 5 minutes, 4 were quite definitely long-tailed jaegers. I watched one jaeger chase 2 gulls in a.m. and in p.m. I watched 5 long-tails course in a close group behind the boat, cutting across the wake the gulls were following.

- 1750*
Heerman's Gull
✓ Heerman's Gull - saw very few going out but about 20 of some 80-90 gulls that followed our boat for many miles back were Heermann's. Of the 20, only 4 were definitely full adults.
Western Gull
✓ Western Gulls - some all the way out, and about 65 (60-70) followed our boat back for many miles. Of the 65, 35 were 1st-year immatures, 20 were 2nd-year immatures or transitions thereof, and 10 were full adults.
Arctic Tern
✓ Arctic Tern - 2 seen about 10 miles out from Golden Gate in a.m. Perched on floating piece of wood, but flushed when we approached. Circled us so we ~~app~~ had good view of them. Saw red bill plainly.
✓ California Murre - these winter plumaged birds were the most abundant Alcid seen on trip out - Perhaps a total of 150-175 were seen, singly or in groups of 2 or 3. Very few seen on trip back. Very choppy rough sea on way out and calm on return trip.
Booby
✓ Pigeon Guillemot - only 1 seen and in winter plumage.
Marbled Murrelet - about 20 seen
Ancient Murrelet - about 12 seen.
✓ Cassin's Auklet - only 2 seen on trip out, but 20 or 30 seen on return.
Audubon Warbler ?? - one bird which most likely was this warbler flew around our boat about 10 miles out.
Kingfisher
✓ Finch - one bird, which flew like a finch, came near our boat for a short while about 1 1/4 miles out this morning.

October 15, 1950, Farallon Islands, Southeast Group, containing lighthouse and Coast Guard Station, 123°00' W passes through big island of the group, and 37°42'20"N. The Middle, & North Farallons and Moonday Islands comprising the Federal Refuge to the NW were not visited. 1010-1520 PST. 1761

Hoebell's Grebe - 3 just south of islands - winter plumage.

Brown Pelicans - only an occasional flyer, but there were several hundred perched high in the islands, particularly the cone-like east island of the group.

Farallon Cormorant - 1,000's on near-vertical slopes as well as on flat island areas. Also 100's feeding in waters around island. After 2 p.m. low flying strings of 35-125 came in from the south and east. Each bird flew behind and a little to the side of the one ahead. One time 2 strings from different directions crossed each other and still maintained formation. Strings broke up as they swept upward to land on the islands. Some of the Baird or Brandt's were also in these strings. Flights were still arriving when we left at 3:30 p.m.

Baird and/or Brandt Cormorants - few

Cackling Goose - 1 circled boat south and west of islands and flew back to island.

Black Oystercatcher - 1 seen on land and another flew around us.

Black turnstone - several observed on the wave-washed rocky shore, and also saw 4 or 5 about 100' up island cliffs and slopes on very dry areas.

Red Phalarope - one 1 seen - it was turning to winter plumage.

Northern Phalarope - there were 1,000's in winter plumage on the waters around the island. Some stayed within 15-20 feet of our boat. All tended to remain in loose flocks or rafts on the water. 1762

Heermann's Gull - 1 adult/ 4 immatures on and around the rocks. About 50 seen.

Western Gulls - most common - several 100 seen.

Herring Gull - 3 or 4 seen.

California Murres - about 40 in winter plumage seen around islands.

Pigeon Guillemot - only 1 in winter plumage.

Cassin Auklet - all in dark winter plumage - would dive at the slightest provocation. about 30 seen - usually 2 or 3 in one small area offshore. Some flew and flopped ahead of the boat with typical duck "wounded" lead-away antics.

Rock Wren - 2 or 3 seen on rocks near shore.

August 4-5, 1951, Silver Lake, Amador Co. Calif. C.S.H.88, 7200' elev.

Eared or Horned Grebe - one in full breeding plumage observed for over a half hour with 7X binocs at distances from 50 to 125 yards. Light was fine, and observations were made with rests, from granite rocks above the water. Lighter colored plumes on side of head had position of that shown in pics for the eared grebe, but no black crest was observed. Further, there appeared to be a rusty color on the neck. Also, the sides were a rich, and quite bright chestnut or ~~ru~~rufous filling in a considerable portion of the sideview of the bird riding on the water. The bird would swim away from passing rowboards, motor boats and canoes, but was not observed to dive to escape these boats.

Killdeer - seen the morning of the 5th. just 1.

Spotted Sandpiper - about 4 pairs of adults seen, and on one stretch of Lake shore we found a brood of 4 downy young running around. One was caught Sat. (the 4th) p.m. and banded, but the others escaped. We returned to the same stretch of lakeshore, and cornering the family on a rocky peninsula, Ard and I caught all 4 of the young, releasing the one banded the day before. Size LA bands used were: 41-152117, 122, 123, and 125. Young were downy gray color, with darker stripe down middle of back. One young escaped us by taking to the water, and as I reached for it, it definitely "duck-dived" and swam a few inches under water, using its wings for propulsion. It repeated this feat three times in a row, but only for short distances. Then it rode in the water like a phalarope, and swam a full 40 feet across a small bay off the lake.

Pacific Nighthawk - 1 was seen coursing over the lake the p.m. of the 4th.

By 9 a.m., the 5th, between 18 and 24 of them were feeding over this same arm of the lake where one had been the day before.

Anna Hummingbirds - several seen.

Red-shafted Flicker - 1 heard.

Red-breasted or Sierra Yellow-bellied Sapsucker - 2 or 3 seen.

Hairy Woodpecker - 1 seen working pines near camp.

White-headed Woodpecker - several seen and others heard.

Black Phoebe - at least 2 seen at the lake.

Western Flycatcher - several seen - one pair were feeding young not long from nest.

Wood Pewee - a few

Traill Flycatchers very common

Olive-sided Flycatcher - several seen, and others heard calling - usually on hi perch.

Violet-green Swallows - several 10 around the lake, using dead pine and fir snaps for roosts (nest sites, too?)

Tree Swallows - quite a few seen.

Blue-fronted Stellar Jay - none seen - several heard.

Clarke's Nutcrackers - 1 seen, several heard calling around lake valley.

Mountain Chickadees - quite common

Bush-tits

Red-breasted Nuthatches common

White-breasted Nuthatches - 2 pairs seen.

Pigmy Nuthatch - along way to Carson Spur.

Sierra Nevada Brown Creepers

W. House Wren in vicinity of wood piles near cabins.

Robins very common about camps, and elsewhere in pine woods and underbrush

Solitaires - several seen and others heard.

Calaveras Warbler a few

Audubon Warblers and many young in the area.

Hermit Warbler in lodgepole pine zone about camp - adults and young.

Pileolated Warbler in willows on meadow-area.

Brewer Blackbirds in lodgepole pine about camps, and feeding on marshy lakeshore.

Western Tanagers - several pairs of adults seen - no young seen.

Black-headed Grosbeak - just 1 pair heard and seen

Pine Grosbeak - M and F in lodgepole pine, and then many more heard calling, and a few more seen flying about the hill northwest of the lake. Usually were perched pretty high and flew high. Call similar to "yellow-legs"??

Pine Siskins

Green-tailed Towhee in manzanita and huckleberry-oak areas.

Oregon Juncos

Chipping Sparrows in manzanita and huckleberry-oak areas.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial data. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The document also mentions the need for regular audits to verify the accuracy of the records and to identify any discrepancies.

In addition to maintaining accurate records, the document also discusses the importance of proper documentation. This includes keeping receipts, invoices, and other supporting documents for all transactions. These documents are essential for proving the validity of the entries and for resolving any disputes that may arise.

The document also mentions the importance of keeping the records secure. This means that the records should be stored in a safe place, protected from fire, theft, and other risks. It also suggests that the records should be backed up regularly to prevent data loss.

Finally, the document discusses the importance of keeping the records up to date. This means that all transactions should be recorded as soon as they occur, and the records should be reviewed regularly to ensure that they are accurate and complete. The document also mentions that the records should be kept for a certain period of time, as required by law.

The document concludes by stating that maintaining accurate and up-to-date records is essential for the success of any business. It is a key part of good financial management and can help to prevent many problems that can arise from poor record-keeping.

By following the guidelines outlined in this document, businesses can ensure that their records are accurate, complete, and secure. This will help them to manage their finances effectively and to avoid any potential legal or financial problems.

July 24-30, 1952, Patterson G.S. Camp, Modoc Nat. For., Modoc Co. Calif.
El. 7,200' on south slope of ridge. Immediate area with red fir, yellow pine, and aspen along water courses and springs. Much brush, chaparral of mtn.
mahogany, in places. Other tree species. Green marsh and bog plants on springy hillsides especially attractive to insects and birds.

Species observed are:

Vulture - on July 26, 10 circling NE at 5:30 p.m. others seen sev. days.
Sharp-shinned Hawk - 1 screeching over camp two diff. days, between thunderstorms.
Red-tailed Hawk - 3 seen.

Rufous Hummingbird - ad. M and F's seen in boggy areas near camp.
Red-shafted Flickers - adults and immatures about camp.
Hairy Woodpecker - 2 ad. and 1 young. Latter often perched on small twigs like other birds, not clinging to big limb and trunk bark.
Red-naped Sapsucker - several seen Williamson Sapsucker - several around. One with very long white wing patch when perched. Very large white rump area, flying. Belly white. White stripes on head, and no red present. Immature?
White-headed Woodpecker - 1 seen. 2 heard.
Wood Pewee - very common and pugnacious to each other and other species. Also curious, following bluebirds carrying food to nest.
Little Flycatcher - several seen
Olive-sided Flycatcher - 1 heard
Western Flycatcher - about 6 seen.
Horned Larks in meadow at East Creek

Stellar Jays - only 3 seen
Clarke Nutcrackers - 7-10 calling in a.m.s and especially in evening and flying southerly after 7 p.m. from vicinity of Pearson Ridge to NE of our camp.
Black-capped Chickadee - a few in vicinity
Mountain Chickadee and young, some barely able to fly, common in vicinity. A variety of calls and songs heard.
Bush Tits - few in area, occasionally.
Slender-billed Nuthatch - just 2 seen, and on one occasion 2 on yellow pine trunk in company with 2
Red-breasted Nuthatches - which were very common in vicinity.
California Creeper - a few
Dipper - 3 seen, one with nest in end of tree roots in mid-creek.
House Wren - about 5 pairs seen in area. One with nest in aspen, hole at 8 feet on south side. Adults got most of food to north and east at distances from 25 to 200 feet from nest tree. All times I watched they flew to perch in fir tree just 5 feet across from nest.
Robins quite common in area.
Hermit Thrush - once heard, 2x seen.
Mountain Bluebirds - Nest in aspen near our camp. Hole at 8' on south side of trunk.
Open parkland of grass and aspen, yellow pine 50 feet away. Young in nest being fed by 2 males and 1 female. Banded one male on left leg (1A) - 41-152124. July 25.
7-25 Saw one male fly 37' (ground distance) from 9' perch to pick up green caterpillar to young. Adults often brought food to nest faster than another adult could vacate nest - they waited in line to feed the young.

Mtn. Bluebird continued:

- 7-26 At 3:30 p.m. M and F feeding. Watched F bring 1"-long green Geometridae caterpillar, fly from nest to perch just 3 feet from nest hole, and fly to ground to pick up grasshopper $1\frac{1}{2}$ " long and took to nest. All within one minute. The adults would perch in the shade of the aspen trunks when not feeding. They always seem to kill food on ground or limb before going to nest with it. Both M and F can hover over possible food, about 2-3' above ground. Also observed adults occasionally carrying out fecal sacs. Call of young quite weak these two days, when fed.
- 7-27 The Oregon Junco chases chipping sparrows, and the Mtn. Bluebird chases juncos. Right after a thunderstorm this afternoon, the F fed young 2 grasshoppers. So did male. Also, F brought a Sand Cricket (Stenopelmatus) and green caterpillar and 2 more grasshoppers and many other trips were made that were not studied. Feeding active in morning, quite through mid-hours, and picks up again in late afternoon unless disrupted by rain and our activities.
- 7-28 Adults still carrying out fecal sacs. Nest deep, for I couldn't reach adult on nest with my fingers. Adults fed young in between heavy thunderstorms this p.m. About 6 p.m. I watched the 3 adults bring 1 sand cricket, 2 grubs or larvae, and 5 grasshoppers (one still kicking) to young. The male I had banded was very nervous while I was near nest, but would go directly to nest hole. Other male would go to it, but not in to feed the young. F was bold and scolded me and came close and fed even when I there. The 2 males were lined up on adjacent perch waiting to get to nest, they being not 3 feet from my head. Quite a view of them. The F was observed to make 5 attempts to secure food, the last one being successful. Their hunting success varied from 1 in 1, to this 1 in 5 tries, at 6:30 p.m.
- 7-29 At 9 a.m. the adults were waiting in line to feed the young. The adults range at least 100 yards downhill to west of nest; 300 yards uphill to northeast and north of nest; 75 yards east and SE of nest, uphill; and 75 yards south of nest, across aspen glen. All boundaries seem to be determined by coniferous forest-open or aspen border. The adults did use some of the firs for perches while looking for food. Observed that centipede were added to the list of foods taken to young.

Townsend Solitaire - a few in vicinity.

Ruby-crowned Kinglets - watched one bathe, after which red crest was very much erect, practically covering entire crown.

American Water Pipit - a few in meadow area. and atop Black Cone.

Calaveras Warbler - in willows and meadow

Starlings - at 1:05 p.m. banded and 1 spotted 16 or 17 perched in limbs of two cottonwoods (P. trichocarpa) at White Rock. They now and then made sorties out from their perches for insects, returning to the perch. They soared easily, and flew 350 at 1000 ft. for distance of at least 2 miles. 3 of them remained for further observation, and they moved from tree to tree to tree tops. Next perched 10-40 feet above ground. We left area, after taking pictures, and returned 15-20 minutes later, to find a total of 22 starlings perched in the same two cottonwoods. These were on a 24-facing grassed slope, with cattle yard and some shrubs downhill. They were readily told perching, by the tail, and at least some had raised crest-like formation to top of head. We never heard them utter notes, but in flight their pointed wings, short, spread tail, and rapid strong and steady flight left no doubt as to what they were.

June 19-20, 1954, Silver Lake, C.S.H. 88, Amador Co. Calif. 7,200' el.

Spotted Sandpiper - 2 pair - 1 where 4 young banded in 1952. 1 at south end of lake in meadow area. Located nest on dry meadow near dirt road - took pic of it with 3 eggs at 3 p.m. on the 19th, and at noon on the 20th - 4 eggs, meaning that if an egg were laid each day, the 1st was laid on the 17th. We had a very difficult time finding the nest, succeeding only after one had returned to nest, and, knowing general area, we got the other mate to call while flying nearby, and the one on nest answered with single note. Located on slight hummock in rush-grass meadow 15' from road. Cup $2\frac{1}{2}$ " to 3" dia. and $1\frac{1}{2}$ " - 2" deep. Some grass, chips and leaves lining it. Slight shelter by rushes.

Red-shafted Flicker - calling rolling notes often

Hairy Woodpecker - pair with nest in 28" dia. lodgepole snag over water at 18'. Hole facing east. Watched hole from 3:50 to 4:25. Snag in shade during entire time. BB hit snag and bird came out at 4:04. Worked lazily 2 trees and in at 4:08 and stayed, but came out much later about 4:45 to 6:30 or so.

White-headed Woodpecker - 1M only.

Western Flycatcher - 1 in willow-meadow

Olive-sided Flycatcher - used 2 main perched all day.

Wood Pewee - one of most common birds in area. Calling all day and last to call at night after 9 p.m. and first in the a.m. before 4 a.m. Chased Warbling Vire. Nest - on top of limb 7' out from trunk to SE on a live lodgepole Pine, atop a knot, at height of 40'. Nest under construction, webs common. 1 bird working. Nest overhangs limb and know. Tree in open. Nest - at 18' on south side of lodgepole pine, live, on dead limb fork 3' out from trunk. Webs, too. Bird working on it. In forest canopy area. Nest at 60-65' on east side of live lodgepole, 8-10' out on fork of live limb, facing wide open area. One bird working, making at least 1 visit per minute with nest material (webbing) from nearby Jeffrey pine.

Violet-green Swallow - 4

Cliff Swallow - 6

Stellar Jay - secretive - about 4

✓ Clarke Nutcrackers - 4-6 about tops of red firs in area. Catching insects there.

Mountain Chickadees - heard plaintive notes most of day.

Nest - in 4' dia. lodgepole snag, in bare wood, to west at 20' height. Pair feeding young at about 1 visit/minute rate. Carried fecal sacs away.

Nest - in live lodgepole at 4' on E with young in nest. Pic a.m. of 20th.

Red-breasted Nuthatch - Several pairs in area.

Nest - at 30' in south side of live Jeffrey pine in woods. Young in nest.

Nest - at 38' on south side of red fir snag in semi-open. Often both adults in nest at once, and seen carrying fecal sacs away. Evening rate of 2 visit or even 3 or 4 per minute. Slightly less in a.m.

Brown Creeper

No adults at nest.

Hairy Woodpecker - several pair - 1 nest in dying aspen at 11½ feet, facing southwest.

Hole about 10" deep. Aspen in thicket. 2 young in nest. Banded male, but female flew before I could band it. First flight downward to ground just 40' away.

Second flight about 100' to 6' on pine, and third flight across end of lake, a distance of at least ¼ mile. All these flights within 3 minutes of nest departure.

This at 1:30 p.m. on June 25. At 9 a.m. on June 27, we noted a pair of Tree Swallows apparently taking over the nest hole, as they went in and out of it while we watched.

White-headed Woodpecker - 1M

Wood Pewees common - 1 nest on 2½" dead lodgepole pine limb at height of 55'. Limb to north of tree trunk. Webs around it at fork of limb. Tree more or less in open on south slope. Saw one chasing a nutcracker all over.

Olive-sided Flycatcher - tried unsuccessfully to locate 3 pairs nests.

Tree Swallows - few seen - 1 pair taking over Hairy Woodpecker nest hole vacated by two young on the 25th at 1:30 p.m. Moving in on June 27 at 9 a.m.

Violet-green Swallow - 1 seen.

Stellar Jay - several pairs - mostly quiet. Chased by Warbling Vireo

Clarke Nutcrackers - 6 or 8 about camp - calling often. Some young seen. Chased by Pewee.

Mountain Chickadee - several pairs in camp area. Nest in dying aspen in thicket just SW of pine (lodgepole) forest area adjacent to clearing to SW. Hole at 14' on west side - apparently an old hairy woodpecker hole. Only ½"-thick tree trunk shell at nest. 5 young facing outward in circle lined with fine material, such as lint. Many feed trips.

Red-breasted Nuthatch - few

White-breasted Nuthatch - an immature seen. Nearly fully grown, but colors indistinct & dull.

Nest at 13-14' on north side of dead lodgepole pine snag. On hill in forest area.

Brown Creeper - heard and seen often. Nest on east-running branch of Jeffrey on semi-open south slope. Nest in crack on south side of this down-hanging branch of 6-8" dia.

Pied-billed Grebe - 1

White Pelicans - 3

Bittern - 2 or 3 pumping regularly.

Canada Goose - much sign around, and old nests found.

Mallard - 2 pair seen. Found nest without adult near at 4 p.m. but hen on at 6 p.m.

Nest about 10-12" dia. on ground closely surrounded by 3 young lodgepole pines.

2 eggs and 10 young in nest. First found on May 30 by Argantes.

Osprey - pair circling and fishing over marsh. Watched one carry 10-11" fish down the beach to nest we had previously located in dead Jeffrey Pine snag about 25' high.

Never saw bird actually go to nest, tho it landed on limb near nest. Mountain

Chickadees had nest at 10' height in same snag, on side away from lake shore.

We found several catfish and hardheads or other minnows all dry, and mostly headless, lying on the ground below the nest.

Sparrow Hawk - 2

Killdeer

Willet - Celeste Kirscher and Argantes found a willet sitting on a nest on May 30. The bird did not leave the nest while they stroked it. We found a pair of willets on the lakeshore all a.m., and found the abandoned nest. Located in slight depression between 3 closely-spaced cow-pies. There were 2 eggs, and apparently that was all laid, for each had distinct depression under them, probably from pressure of adult bird. Took pic. Two eggs of distinct difference in size. Larger about 2 1/2" long and smaller 2 1/8" long, and each being proportionately different in girth. The larger egg was paler in color as well.

Spotted Sandpipers - 4 seen.

1/ Female on nest each morning in hole at 6' on S. side of 2'-diameter red-fir snag.

Did see her cut breeding wings and tail for 5 minutes one morning.

2/ A few showed up on the 18th and 19th, but it wasn't until the 21st that they were singing in profusion, and seen most everywhere. Count estimate conservative.

3/ Located one in low scrub in "black" just behind cabin. Seemed to have territory, but nest not located, only 1 seen, and probably too early anyway. Late June better.

4/ Numbers began to increase in mid-week, and thereafter were common, noisy, and chasing each other everywhere.

5/ Watched one picking up red iris feathers left in one of my traps (later on ground) and carrying them away to a nest.

6/ On the 17th, 5 of them were heading due north in a line behind each other.

7/ Didn't find them in the open scrub up the hill until the 21st. More the Gray-headed varieties, in contrast to the rich dark brown of the coastal and northern types.

8/ When one junco was trapped, its mate invariably tried to get into the trap and stayed close by the entire time. I caught one complete pair in this manner.

May 16, 1955, Pope Beach, 3rd, Lake Tahoe, California. 7:30-10:30 AM. 1955.
